1. About FIL Responsible Entity (Australia) Limited

FIL Responsible Entity (Australia) Limited (ABN 33 148 059 009 AFSL No. 409340) (FREAL, we, us, our) is the responsible entity for the Fund. We are responsible for the day-to-day operation of the Fund and for ensuring it complies with the Constitution and relevant laws. This responsibility includes establishing, implementing and monitoring the Fund's investment objective and strategy. We are the issuer of units in the Fund and have prepared this PDS.

FREAL is a member of the group of companies known as Fidelity International (Fidelity). FREAL has appointed FIL Investment Management (Australia) Limited (ACN 006 773 575, AFSL 237865) (FIMAL), also a member of Fidelity, as the investment manager of the Fund.

FIMAL has the power under the terms of its appointment with us to sub-authorise other members of the Fidelity group to manage some or all of the Fund's assets and/or to perform certain tasks and services in relation to the Fund.

Fidelity is one of the world's leading asset managers with a global network researching investment opportunities in the US, Europe, the Middle East, Africa and Asia Pacific. Fidelity manages over A$418.9 billion¹ on behalf of both private and institutional investors.

Fidelity is an active asset manager with a fundamental research philosophy. Fidelity builds investment funds stock by stock through on-the-ground analysis of companies, their customers, suppliers and competitors. This intensive research process sets Fidelity apart from other fund managers and we believe gives Fidelity a significant competitive advantage when choosing companies for our equity portfolios.

For Australian investors, we offer investors a range of investment choices including Australian equities funds, global equities funds, a fixed income fund and a range of Asian-based equities funds.

2. How the Fidelity Global Emerging Markets Fund works

How the Fund operates

When you invest your money in the Fund, your money is pooled together with other investors' money. We then invest the money in the Fund on your behalf. By investing this way, you gain access to investment buying power while giving us day-to-day control over the operation of the Fund. This buying power means you can take advantage of opportunities that may otherwise not be available to you.

What is a unit and a unit price?

When you acquire an interest in the Fund, we will issue you 'units' in the Fund representing your investment but you do not have an interest in any particular asset of the Fund. Your return will reflect the performance of the investments made by the Fund, after expenses.

Application prices are generally higher than withdrawal prices due to the application of a 'buy-sell spread'. For additional information, refer to Section 6, 'Fees and other costs'.

The unit prices will generally change daily as the market value of the assets in the Fund rises or falls. Application and withdrawal prices for each business day are available on our website on the following business day.

Details relating to the Fund net asset value (NAV) is also available on our website.

² Excludes Australian securities.

How do you invest?

You can invest in the Fund directly, through the Managed Fund Settlement Service operated by the ASX (mFund) or indirectly through an Investor Directed Portfolio Service (IDPS) service.

Generally, if we receive your correctly completed application and application money before 3pm (Sydney time) on a business day, it will be processed using the unit price calculated for that day. Where we receive correct documentation after 3pm, we are taken to have received it the next day and it will be processed using the unit price determined for the following business day.

If your application is not correct, we will not process your application until the correct information is received.

What if you are invested through an IDPS?

Indirect investors may be subject to different conditions from those referred to in this PDS, particularly with regard to cut-off times for transacting, processing and withdrawals. As well as reading this PDS, indirect investors should read their IDPS operator's offer document. (For additional information, refer to the section below titled 'Indirect investors'.)

What if you are invested through mFund?

If you invest through mFund, you can invest in the Fund using certain ASX brokers, without completing our application form. Generally, to be processed using the unit price calculated for that day, the request must be received within the timeframes specified in the ASX Settlement Operating Rules which will ensure that application monies are received by us on that same day and on a Settlement Day.

What is the minimum initial investment?

The minimum initial investment in the Fund is $25,000. We may reduce this minimum initial investment at our discretion. Indirect investors should read their IDPS operator's offer document for minimum initial investment amounts.

What will we invest your money in?

The Fund may invest in a variety of shares, derivatives and cash. The Fund's investments will comprise between 90% and 100% of globally listed securities (excluding Australian securities), with the remaining amount invested in cash. The Fund's securities will provide exposure to emerging markets. Decisions to invest in cash will be dependent upon the availability of other favourable investment opportunities.

We may make use of derivatives, such as futures contracts and swaps. A derivative is a security whose price or value is dependent upon or derived from an underlying instrument (such as shares, indices, interest rates, fixed income securities, commodities, currencies, etc). A derivative contract is a contract between two or more parties and its value is determined by fluctuations in the underlying asset. Generally, derivatives will be used for cash flow management purposes within the Fund. Any derivative exposure must be fully covered by cash or assets sufficient to meet any obligation that could arise. If derivatives are used, they will comprise a small portion of the Fund's assets.

Currency management

The Fund's exposure to international securities² will not be hedged back to Australian dollars. This means that the value of an investment in the Fund will change not only on the basis of a change in asset values, but also because of movements in exchange rates.

Additional investments

You can add to your investment at any time via BPAY®, or by completing the Additional Application Form or by placing an order through your IDPS operator (if you invest through an IDPS) or with your broker (where you invest through mFund). Please refer to Section 8 on 'How to apply'.

For applications made by BPAY, we will not issue units until we receive the money from your nominated financial institution. This generally means there will be a delay between the day you initiate a BPAY transaction and the day the units are issued.

How to withdraw

Generally, if we receive your correctly completed withdrawal application before 3pm (Sydney time) on a business day, it will be processed using the unit price calculated for that day. Where we receive correct documentation after 3pm, we are taken to have received it the next day and it will be processed using the unit price determined for the following business day.

You can withdraw all or part of your investment in the Fund at any time by completing a withdrawal form available on our website, or by requesting a form from our Client Services team on 1800 044 922. Generally, partial withdrawals are subject to maintaining a minimum account balance of $25,000 in the Fund.

Those unitholders invested through mFund will be able to make a withdrawal from the Fund through mFund by placing a sell order with certain ASX brokers. Generally, to be processed using the unit price calculated for that day, the request must be received within the timeframes specified in the ASX Settlement Operating Rules. Withdrawal requests received after this time will be processed using the unit price determined for the following business day.

Generally, the proceeds of a withdrawal request will be paid within five business days of our acceptance of a withdrawal request but may take longer in some circumstances.

Restrictions on withdrawals

There may be instances where your ability to withdraw from the Fund is restricted and you may be subject to a waiting period before your investment can be redeemed. For example, we may delay or suspend a withdrawal request where assets of the Fund are unable to be sufficiently realised due to circumstances beyond our control. In these instances, a unit price cannot be fairly determined (such as where there is restricted or suspended trading in the market), or where the Fund becomes illiquid. (Under the Corporations Act, in general terms a fund is illiquid if it has less than 80% liquid assets; that is, cash and marketable securities.)

Distributions

The Fund may pay distributions annually (June 30). In some situations, distributions may be paid at other times. Distributions are usually paid within 14 days after year end.

Your distribution is calculated by dividing the distributable income of the Fund by the number of units on issue at the end of the distribution period. This gives a distributable income amount per unit. Your distribution entitlement is then determined by multiplying the number of units you hold by the distributable income amount per unit.

The distributions you receive are generally assessable income. If you invest during a distribution period, you may get back some of your capital as income. In some circumstances, we may hold back some income until the final distribution at the end of June to allow for market volatility.

The Fund's use of derivatives may affect the realised gains and losses of the Fund. This may affect the Fund's ability to distribute income.

Unless you instruct otherwise, your distribution entitlement will be reinvested. Distributions are reinvested on the distribution date at an application price calculated by dividing the net asset value of the Fund (which excludes the distribution amount) by the number of units on issue. No buy spread will apply in this circumstance.

Indirect investors

We authorise the use of this PDS as disclosure to people who wish to access the Fund indirectly through an IDPS, an IDPS-like scheme or a nominee or custody service (collectively known as master trusts or wrap accounts). In this circumstance, the IDPS operator becomes an investor in the Fund and acquires the rights of an investor and can exercise, or decline to exercise, these rights on your behalf.

As well as reading this PDS, indirect investors should read the IDPS operator's offer document, which explains the service and the fees payable by the indirect investor to the IDPS operator. Indirect investors should follow the instructions of the IDPS operator to apply to buy or sell units in the Fund.

If you invest in the Fund indirectly, you may be subject to different conditions from those referred to in this PDS, particularly with regard to cut-off times for transacting, the timing of distributions, processing and withdrawals as well as Fund reporting and other investor communication.

3. Benefits of the Fidelity Global Emerging Markets Fund

Significant features

The Fidelity Global Emerging Markets Fund is an actively managed portfolio of globally listed securities. Some of the features of the Fund include:

- Access to a portfolio of globally listed securities exposed to emerging markets, whether or not included in the Fund's benchmark.
- An investment approach driven by bottom-up fundamental research that favours attractively valued companies that we believe are positioned to generate returns through market cycles and have demonstrated a track record of strong corporate governance.
- The ability for the portfolio manager to call on the research of a team of global and regional sector analysts.

Significant benefits

Some of the benefits that may arise from an investment in the Fund include:

- Potential to earn higher returns than the Fund's benchmark, the MSCI Emerging Markets Index NR, over the suggested timeframe.
- Access to a bottom-up, professionally managed portfolio.
- Access to the investment knowledge and expertise of Fidelity's global network of investment professionals who can assess the foreign operations of the companies they cover.
- Access to a portfolio of shares that may provide income distributions.
- Regular investment statements and an annual tax statement to keep you up to date on your investment.

4. Risks of managed investment schemes

All investments carry risk. Different strategies may carry different levels of risk, depending on the assets that make up the strategy. The likely investment return and the risk of losing money are different for every investment. Assets with the highest long-term returns may also carry the highest level of short-term risk.

The significant risks associated with this Fund are:

- Asset or sector risk: the Fund invests in securities exposed to emerging markets. This means factors affecting emerging markets securities will have a greater effect on the Fund than if the Fund were diversified across other asset classes.
- Currency risk: this is the risk that changes in exchange rates between the Australian dollar and foreign currencies can have a negative impact on the investment value of international securities³ held by the Fund.

The currency risk for emerging markets securities can be high due to political and economic factors in these markets. Currencies may be highly volatile, including periods of depreciation, which may affect the value of the Fund's assets.

- Derivative risk: the value of a derivative is derived from the value of an underlying asset, resulting in the risk that the value of the derivative may fail to move in line with the underlying asset class. Other risks associated with using derivatives may include volatility in prices, illiquidity, the Fund failing to meet payment obligations as they arise, or the counterparty to the derivative contract failing to meet its obligations under the contract.
- Distribution risk: this is the risk that the Fund may not pay distributions of income on a regular basis.
- Emerging market risk: investments in emerging markets securities involve a range of risks in addition to those involved in investing in more developed markets including potentially lower corporate governance standards, lower levels of investor protection, uncertain legal systems, currency instability, and market, liquidity, political, social and other risks. Those risks could include adverse impacts from governmental restrictions on international trade, restrictive foreign exchange regulation, centrally managed adjustments in currency values, adverse taxation treatment of foreign investors, rapid depreciation of the currency in which investments are denominated, and reduced liquidity that could affect the realisation of depreciating assets. There may also be restricted access to emerging markets through limited numbers of brokers and other intermediaries and service providers, such as custodians, as well as less efficient and robustly regulated stock exchanges.

The laws and principles regarding corporate governance in many emerging markets are still developing and, even where developed, management may not follow corporate governance procedures. In some emerging markets the laws and regulations involving corporations, securities, taxation and foreign investment may be relatively new and untested, and subject to change. Such laws and regulations may also adversely and retrospectively affect corporations, securities, taxation and foreign investment. Therefore, in emerging markets, investors may not be adequately protected under local laws and the Fund may find it difficult to enforce its rights.

Typically, less information is available to investors in emerging markets and information may be out of date. Accounting, auditing and financial reporting standards, practices and disclosure requirements in emerging markets often differ from those of more developed markets.

Political risks may exist in emerging markets due to uncertainty regarding potentially adverse political decisions and the potential for political unrest.

Emerging markets investments may therefore experience high volatility in asset prices. This means there may be large movements in the unit price of the Fund over short or long periods of time.

- Fund risk: risks particular to the Fund include that it could be wound up, the fees and expenses could change, the responsible entity or FIMAL could be replaced or the investment professionals could change. There is a risk that investing in the Fund may give different results from investing individually because of income accrued in the Fund and due to investments and withdrawals by other investors.
- Liquidity and redemption risk: this is the risk that an investment security may not be able to be bought or sold quickly enough to prevent or minimise a loss. A lack of liquidity may affect the amount of time it takes to satisfy withdrawal requests.

Emerging market securities can be less liquid than developed market securities. Purchases and sales of investments may take longer than in developed markets and transactions may need to be conducted at unfavourable prices.

- Market risk: the market price of investments held by the Fund may decline, sometimes quickly or unpredictably, due to factors affecting the market. These factors may include economic, technological, political, legal, environmental or other conditions, and even market sentiment. The value of an investment may decline due to general market conditions not specifically related to a particular company or government.
- Specific security risk: investments in shares in a company can fall in value for many reasons such as changes in internal operations or management of the company or changes in the business environment in which the company operates.
- Legal and regulatory risk: the Fund may be adversely affected by future changes in applicable laws, including tax laws and regulations.
- Counterparty risk: the ASX may suspend or revoke the admission of the Fund on mFund. Risks may also arise in relation to transactions processed via mFund if ASX settlement procedures have not been accurately relayed or processed.

Fidelity actively manages risk within its investment portfolios. We believe Fidelity's intensive research approach that focuses on regular company contact and internal and external research of companies and the industries in which they operate helps Fidelity to be better informed of investment risks and make better investment decisions for the medium to long term.

We also employ a range of monitoring procedures with the aim of reducing overall portfolio risk and ensuring we always act in the best interests of our investors.

Risk can be managed, but cannot be entirely eliminated. It is important to understand the following:

- The value of your investment will vary.
- Past performance is not an indicator of future performance.
- The level of returns on your investment will vary and future returns may differ from past returns.
- Returns are not guaranteed and you may lose money on any investment you make.
- Laws affecting your investment in a registered managed investment scheme may change in the future.

The level of risk for each person will vary depending on a range of factors, including your age, investment timeframe, where other parts of your wealth are invested, and your risk tolerance.

³ Excludes Australian securities.

6. Fees and other costs

This section provides a summary of the fees and costs you may be charged. These fees and costs may be deducted from your investment, from the returns on your investment or from the Fund assets as a whole.

You should read all the information about fees and other costs because they affect your investment. You can also use this information to compare costs with those of other investment funds.

Fees when money moves in or out of the Fund

Type of fee or cost	Amount
Establishment fee	Nil
Contribution fee	Nil
Withdrawal fee	Nil
Exit fee	Nil
Management costs
The fees and costs for managing your investment	1.00% p.a. ⁵ of the net asset value of the Fund (including GST net of Reduced Input Tax Credit).

⁵ What it costs you will depend on the fees you negotiate with us, your financial adviser or your IDPS operator.

Example of annual fees and costs for the Fund

This table gives an example of how the fees and costs for the Fund can affect your investment over a one-year period. You can use this table to compare this product with other managed investment products.

Example – balance of $50,000 with a contribution of $5,000 during the year

Contribution fees	Nil	For every additional $5,000 you invest, you will not be charged a fee.
Plus management costs	1.00% p.a.	For every $50,000 you have in the Fund, you will be charged $500 each year.
Equals cost of fund	If you had an investment of $50,000 at the beginning of the year and you put in an additional $5,000 during the year, you would be charged fees of between $500 and $550. ⁶ What it costs you will depend on the investment option you choose and the fees you negotiate with your fund, your financial adviser or your IDPS operator.

⁶ The additional management costs will be on a pro-rata basis and will vary depending on whether you are invested for the whole year or part of the year. Please note that this is just an example and that the actual investment balance of your holding will vary on a daily basis.

Important – Fees may be payable to your broker for accessing the Fund through mFund and, if applicable, to your broker or adviser (refer to the Financial Services Guide provided by your broker or adviser). These fees are in addition to those above.

Additional explanation of fees and costs

Management costs

The management costs include the management fee payable to FREAL for managing the Fund and the expenses of the Fund. The management costs of 1.00% per annum are expressed as a percentage of the net asset value of the Fund (excluding deductions for accrued management fees and expense recoveries) and are based on the amount of management costs which were deducted from or reduced the value of the Fund assets in the last financial year. The management costs include, but are not limited to, costs associated with investment management, custody and investment administration, fees for legal and tax services, the Fund's proportion of similar costs incurred in interposed vehicles, and the embedded costs within derivatives we may use to gain exposure to Fund investments. However, management costs do not include transactional costs which are explained below.

Any recoverable goods and services tax (GST) borne by the Fund will be part of the management costs.

Transactional costs

Transactional and operational costs are a broad category of costs incurred by the Fund that relate to managing the assets of the Fund including buying and selling Fund investments. Some of these costs are explicit amounts charged by third parties such as brokerage, settlement costs, custody settlement charges, clearing costs. Others are implicit costs, for instance buy-sell spreads incurred by the fund to convert one currency to another.

Derivatives

The Fund may invest in derivative financial products not traded on a financial market. These types of derivatives are known as OTC, or over-the-counter derivatives, and are private contracts that are traded directly between two parties. Examples include currency forward contracts used to hedge currency and interest

Did you know?

Small differences in both investment performance and fees and costs can have a substantial impact on your long-term returns.

For example, total annual fees and costs of 2% of your account balance rather than 1% could reduce your final return by up to 20% over a 30-year period (for example reduce it from $100,000 to $80,000).

You should consider whether features such as superior investment performance or the provision of better member services justify higher fees and costs.

You may be able to negotiate to pay lower contribution fees and management costs where applicable. Ask the fund or your financial adviser.

To find out more

If you would like to find out more, or see the impact of the fees based on your own circumstances, the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC) website (www.moneysmart.gov.au) has a managed funds fee calculator to help you check out different fee options.

i To find out more

You should read the important information about 'Fees and costs' before making a decision. Go to Section 2 of the 'Additional Information' document at www.fidelity.com.au/funds/fidelity-global-emerging-markets-fund/.

This material relating to fees and costs may change between the time you read this PDS and the day when you acquire the product.

rate swaps used to hedge interest rate exposures. The notional fees and costs of OTC derivatives are treated as transactional costs for the purposes of this PDS.

Bid-ask spreads

A spread is the difference between the price a buyer is willing to pay (known as the bid price) and the price a seller is willing to accept (the ask price) for a particular investment.

The Fund may incur bid-ask spreads in relation to:

- Foreign currency conversions,
- OTC derivatives transactions.

The total transactional costs incurred by the Fund in the last financial year (ending 30 June 2018), expressed as a percentage of the Fund's average net asset value for that year, was 0.57%.

Buy-sell spread

Sometimes, transactional costs are incurred by the Fund because investors buy or sell units in the Fund and so the Fund may buy and sell investments to meet those investor transactions. We increase the cost at which we sell units in the Fund and decrease the amount which we pay on a withdrawal to recover these costs from investors. The amount of the increase or decrease of the cost of units is called a 'buy-sell spread'.

The purpose of applying a buy-sell spread is to ensure that the existing investors in the Fund are not affected by the transactional costs associated with other investors buying or selling units in the Fund.

The buy-sell spread is an additional cost to you when you buy or sell units in the Fund. The amount of the buy-sell spread is based on our estimates of the average transactional costs incurred by the Fund. However, the buy-sell spread is not a fee paid to us and it is retained in the Fund to cover the actual transactional costs as they are incurred.

As at the date of this PDS, the buy spread and the sell spread for applications and withdrawals are 0.40% of the value of the application or withdrawal amount. These spreads may change from time to time without notice, depending on the nature of the costs and the volume and types of assets being purchased or sold.

Of the total transactional costs incurred by the Fund in the last financial year of 0.57%, expressed as a percentage of the net asset value of the Fund assets, 0.26% was recouped through the application of a buy-sell spread to investors who were buying and selling units in the Fund and 0.31% reduced the returns to the Fund.

Example – combined impact of management costs and transactional costs

The total of the amounts for management costs and transactional costs incurred by the Fund in the last financial year, expressed as a percentage of average net asset value of the Fund assets for that year, was 1.57%.

As an example, if you had an investment of $50,000 at the beginning of the year and you put in an additional $5,000 during the year, the total management costs and transactional costs which would be borne by you are between $785 and $864.

The information included here on transactional costs is based on information available and (if applicable) estimates as at the date of issue of the PDS. Investors should refer to www.fidelity.com.au for any updates which are not materially adverse from time to time.

Additional information on fees and costs

Additional fees and costs such as contribution and withdrawal fees may be payable.

We may change the amount of fees and costs without your consent. Should there be a decision to increase fees and costs, you will be given 30 days' prior notice.

Indirect investors accessing the Fund through an IDPS may incur additional fees and costs. As well as reading this PDS, indirect investors should read their IDPS operator's offer document, which explains the fees payable by the indirect investor to the IDPS operator.

If you consult a financial adviser, additional fees may be payable. You should refer to the Statement of Advice in which details of these fees (if any) are set out.

7. How managed investment schemes are taxed

Investing in a managed investment scheme is likely to have tax consequences. You are strongly advised to seek professional tax advice.

Investors in the Fund will be assessed on distribution income generated by the Fund. The distribution may include foreign income, capital gains and interest income. A taxable capital gain or loss may be realised when withdrawing units in the Fund. Registered managed investment schemes do not pay tax on behalf of Australian resident investors.

If you invest directly in the Fund, or through mFund, we will provide you with a Tax Statement following the end of each financial year to enable you to complete your tax return.

If you invest through an IDPS, the IDPS operator will provide you with the relevant tax information.

i To find out more

You should read the important information about 'How managed investment schemes are taxed' before making a decision. Go to Section 3 of the 'Additional Information' document at www.fidelity.com.au/funds/fidelity-global-emerging-markets-fund/.

This material relating to the taxation of managed investment schemes may change between the time you read this PDS and the day when you acquire the product.

Your broker will process a buy order for units through CHESS. Your broker will confirm the order once received and accepted by us. Applications for units received and accepted by us will be forwarded to your broker for your payment. You will need to provide your application money to your broker.

We will price and allot new units in the Fund to your CHESS Holder Identification Number (HIN). We will also notify your broker of the unit price and units allotted.

Cooling-off period

If you are a 'retail client' (as defined under the Corporations Act) investing directly in the Fund, you have a 14-day cooling-off period to ensure the investment meets your needs. The cooling-off period starts from the earlier of:

- The day we give you a transaction confirmation; or five business days after you acquire the product.

If you exercise your cooling-off rights, we will return your money to you; however, the amount we return may be different from your original investment. The amount may be higher or lower to reflect market movements and this may have tax implications for you. The amount returned will also be affected by the deduction of reasonable administration costs incurred by us or any other amount that may be deducted by us under the Corporations Act. Your cooling-off rights terminate immediately if:

- You exercise any of your rights or powers as an investor in the Fund; or
- An event occurs and your rights or powers as an investor cease to exist.

For any subsequent investments made under a distribution reinvestment plan, this cooling-off right does not apply.

Investors investing through an IDPS will have no cooling-off rights in respect of an investment in the Fund. Indirect investors should contact their IDPS operator and read their IDPS operator's offer document information, which will detail if any cooling-off rights apply.
