Anti-money laundering and counter-terrorism financing laws

Under anti-money laundering and counter-terrorism financing laws, we have obligations to address money laundering and terrorism financing risks. We reserve the right to request such information as is necessary to enable us to:

- Comply with our obligations under relevant laws, including reporting relevant matters to the Australian Transaction Reports and Analysis Centre (AUSTRAC).
- Verify the identity of an investor and (if appropriate) any beneficial owner of the investor, and collect details such as an investor's occupation (for individuals) or business activity (for companies/other entities) as well as investor's source of investment funds.

In the event of a delay or failure by the investor to produce any information required for verification purposes, we may refuse to accept an application. We may also refuse to process a transaction in relation to your investments, or delay or block or refuse a transaction, where we have reasonable grounds for believing that the transaction will breach relevant laws.

By signing this Application form, you acknowledge, understand and agree that:

- FREAL might be required to carry out a procedure to verify your identity before processing your application and carrying out your investment instructions from time to time thereafter.
- FREAL may request or require additional personal or entity information in order to fulfil its legislative obligations, and failure by you to supply the required information in a timely manner might result in FREAL being prevented by law from processing your application and carrying out your investment instructions from time to time. Where the processing of your application or the carrying out your investment instructions is delayed or refused, FREAL and its associated entities are not liable for any loss you might suffer (including consequential loss) howsoever caused in connection with our investment in a fund.

- Transactions might be delayed, blocked or refused where FREAL has reasonable grounds to believe that the transaction breaches relevant laws, including sanctions or the laws or sanctions of any other country. Where transactions are delayed, blocked or refused, FREAL and its associated entities are not liable for any loss you might suffer (including consequential loss) howsoever caused in connection with our investment in the a fund.
- FREAL has certain reporting obligations under anti-money laundering and counter-terrorism financing laws, including the reporting of 'suspicious matters' to AUSTRAC, and that the laws might prevent FREAL from informing you that any such reporting has taken place.
- Where legally obliged to do so, FREAL may disclose the information gathered to regulatory and/or law enforcement agencies, including the AUSTRAC.

Tax file number

If you choose not to quote your TFN/ABN or claim an exemption, we are required to deduct tax at the highest marginal rate plus the Medicare levy from any income payable to you. If provided, your TFN/ABN will apply automatically to any future investment in the fund(s) unless you indicate otherwise. You can choose not to quote your TFN/ABN or claim an exemption. Deciding not to quote a TFN is not an offence. We are authorised to receive TFN information under tax law. For more information about TFNs/ABNs, please contact the Australian Taxation Office.

Tax file number exemption details

Any applicant who has a TFN but is exempt from tax should still quote their TFN. Exempt applicants should then indicate their exemption in the relevant section of this form to avoid tax being deducted from any income distribution. Applicants in the name of a trustee on behalf of a minor should quote their TFN.

This applies whether or not there are circumstances that might suggest that the Communication was unauthorised, unless the Recipient has actual knowledge that the Communication was unauthorised.

- A Recipient may refuse to act on any Communication given by fax or email for any reason, or refuse to act until the Recipient receives confirmation of the Communication (or the instructions stated therein) from you by other means.

- You release and indemnify each Recipient and its associates against any cost, expense, liability or claim suffered or incurred by any of them as a consequence of accepting and acting on a Communication given by fax or email.
- We may determine, from time to time, which instructions, notices or forms will be considered to be Communications that we can receive by fax or email or which a Recipient is bound to honour. Generally, only those forms that expressly state can be sent to a Recipient by fax or email may be given to a Recipient in this manner.

- We reserve the right to suspend or cancel the facility by which a fax or email can be given to a Recipient.
- You agree to comply with our terms and conditions, as they may change from time to time, in relation to sending Communications by fax or email, including complying with any security or verification procedures established or required by a Recipient from time to time.
